

AUTUMN FORAGER TRAIL

While walking in the Parkland,
see if you can collect the following:

Something shiny...

Something fuzzy...

Something hard...

Something green...

Something red or orange...

A leaf skeleton...

Some wool...

A twig...

A feather...

A piece of bark (from a dead tree/branch)

In autumn the Parkland is full of sound and colour, like the deer roaring and the golden leaves falling.
What sounds and colours can you hear and see?

Sounds...

Colours...

Tatton Park has two species of deer, Red and Fallow. They are wild and can roam free all over the Parkland. Red deer are red/brown and Fallow deer are lighter with white spots! Please leave the deer plenty of space, they're wild and this is their home!

What other differences can you see between the deer?

Red Deer...

Fallow Deer...

Autumn is the time of the deer rut - this is a fascinating time when the deer make new families. During the rut the male deer will dress their antlers with grass, and make loud bellows across the parkland. The male deer might even lock antlers and push each other around! While it looks very impressive, please make sure the deer are left alone while they rut.
